

Understanding of Student Expectations and Commitment for Concurrent Enrollment

Concurrent Enrollment provides an option for prepared high school students to take courses that earn both high school and college credit. It is important that students and parents understand the commitment required by the student. To succeed, a student should: attend class every day; check his/her USU Canvas account every day; turn all assignments in on time (USU instructors do not accept late work); and communicate with his/her instructor.

Please be aware of the following expectations for Concurrent Enrollment courses:

Concurrent Enrollment (CE) courses are college courses. College courses require rigorous academic work. Course content may include controversial cultural, religious, political, aesthetic and human sexuality issues. Students must have the maturity to engage with the material in an academically appropriate manner and the organization and time management skills to complete more work and meet deadlines. Students must also meet all college/university prerequisite requirements before enrolling in a CE course.

Students may attempt up to 30 CE credits per year and may not repeat a CE course.

CE course registrations and grades are recorded on permanent high school and college transcripts. Course grade forgiveness does not apply for CE courses.

Withdrawing from or failing a CE course may impact a student's ability to receive financial aid in the future as well as a student's ability to enroll in additional CE courses or desired programs.

The student is responsible for completing the admission and enrollment process, as well as paying applicable admission fees and tuition. If you need help paying your fees/tuition, talk to your school counselor.

If a student withdraws from a course at the high school, he/she must also withdraw from the course at the college. Failure to do so may result in a failing grade on the college transcript.

CE credit earned shall be transferable from one USHE institution to another. Students should seek advice from a college academic advisor to make course choices that meet their educational goals and transfer as equivalent credit.

CE students must abide by Sky View High School and Utah State University Student Codes of Conduct.

Students must contact the college or university CE administrator to request accommodations that may be required under the Americans with Disabilities Act and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act.

Students must abide by the Sky View High School 5-day add/drop policy for CE courses. This means that any schedule changes that includes a CE course must be done by day 5 of the trimester.
